Community Trips To Scott Invited

Community excursions to the Scott Station are each year becoming more numerous and popular. Frequently visitors drive 70 miles to the Station, making the round trip in one day. The Station is always open to visitors, but a more enjoyable time can be spent by a whole community arranging to visit the Station on the same day. All that is necessary is to decide on a day and write or telephone the Superin people that can be expected. For the convenience of parties coming from a distance tea and coffee are furnished free when the Station is notified in advance.

Arrange to reach the Station early in the day sometime during July or August and ask all the questions you wish.

Editorial Comment

We have just got to wake up to the fact that the local taxes have never been sufficiently high to drive a single settler out of the country. These taxes have not even been a burden. It's about time that we got a right view on things, and when such a measure as a rural high school is proposed and brought up for consideration we should rule the hoary bogey of high taxation out of order. He's had the floor for many generations past, he's frightened our grandfather's grandfather, and he is just as lively to day, as he was away back in the good old times.

Another thing we have to wake up to is that if our children are to face successfully the strenuous competition of the future they will need to be equipped with the best education it is in our power to give them. Any sacrifice which we may incur on their behalf will be of immense profit to them, and conversely any deprivation of education to our children will incur inestimable loss to them.

For several years past the district has derived benefit from the taxpayers of the Chauvin school district providing close at home a high school education at no, or little cost to the rural children without a murmur of complaint.

In fact they have done it willingly, but without doubt there are inequalities in this arrangement which must sooner or later be rectified. The time for rectification has now arrived and the question is forced to the front for consideration by a number of reasons which we have not a sufficient space to set forth here.

There is only one fair basis for the satisfactory and permanent solution of the high school question, and that is that all districts sending high school scholars should contribute their quota of taxation and enjoy the rights of representation. This is provided by the present proposal.

No attention need be paid to those who are hollering that it is proposed to plunge the districts into debt by the erection of a grand over-sized building for the benefit of the village, or that any money will be spent wantonly and extravagantly. These matters will be in the hands of the rural high school board and they being members of our own community may be depended upon to exercise the economies that have characterized the operations of the Chauvin and other local primary schools.

An entirely new screen version of Thackeray's masterpiece of "Vanity Fair," is coming to Chauvin, Monday and Edgerton Tuesday, of next week, when Hugo Ballin's picturization of that novel, a Goldwyn release starring Mabel Ballin, is seen here. Mrs. Fiske made a screen adaptation of the Langdon Mitchell play "Beck Shrp," some years ago, but Mr. Ballin's production follows the novel closely and has the advantage of having been made with every latest mechanical and lighting device of pictures at his disposal.

"Vanity Fair" is one of the year's biggest productions and boasts a cast of many prominent players.

Electro-plating a Canadian Railway Operation

Photographs showing electro-plating operations at the Angus Shops, Montreal. No. 1 shows the tanks in which small articles are hung for plating, and No. 5 the lacquering process. The text below explains the other photographs fully.

Passengers on the Trans-Canada and other Canadian trains have often admired the tableware with which the dining cars are equipped, but comparatively few of the travelling public appreciate the extent to which electro-plating enters into every day use on a Railway. As a matter of fact, practically all metal hardware parts of passenger equipment interiors are plated, many of the engine parts, including the copper reflector of the head-light are plated, and various platings are used on a thousand and one articles which enter daily into the life of a railroader.

The traveller notices the silver plate perhaps more than any other, but many metals are used by the railroad companies. Gold, for instance, is used by the Canadian Pacific for plating pepper caster tops and similar articles, copper is used on lighting and other metal car fixtures, zinc on refrigerator hardware, nickel on kitchen utensils, tin on trainmen's lanterns, mercury on telegraph elements and aluminum or lead on miscellaneous articles.

At its Angus Shops, Montreal, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has quite an extensive plant where the most of its electro-plating is carried on. The method used by this Company is a simple one but none the less effective.

The articles to be plated are first chemically cleaned, after which they are usually hung from a metal bar into a long vat where they are immersed in a chemical solution which varies with the metal to be deposited. The electric current, which is of low voltage, is connected, the positive pole to the metal plate or plates, and the negative to the bar from which the articles to be plated are suspended. As the electric current flows from the plating metal to the suspended articles, the metal is carried through the solution and deposited in the form of a thin coating over the entire surface of the required article.

This process is well illustrated in No. 2, which shows two electric headlight reflectors in the process of receiving silver plating. In this case the plate of silver is suspended in the centre of the reflector, which is filled with cyanide of potassium solution, and the electric current flows from the plate to the reflector which is, itself, the negative pole.

Illustration No. 3 shows the next step in the treatment of the headlight reflector, which, by the way, gives the highest concentration of light known. This is hand burnishing, the operator burnishing two reflectors in a working day. For articles which can be readily polished by a rotating buffing wheel, this is accomplished in the manner shown in No. 4.

Upon completion of the polishing operation, articles to be so treated are placed in a metal container and, by means of a small compressed air gun, sprayed with suitable lacquer. If it is desired to oxidize the plated article in order to make it harmonize with woodwork or other material, as is often the case with copper platings, it is exposed to heat or vapor, or immersed in some solution prior to the application of the finishing coat of lacquer.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company was the first large corporation in Canada to instal its own electro-plating plant, but during the last few years this method of protecting metal from oxidation has developed into quite an industry and one which employs a large number of Canadian workmen.

Letter to the Editor

The Rural High School Question

Editor the Chronicle.

Dear Sir,

At the risk of seeming to prove the old saying that "When the Scotch have nobody else to fight they fight wi' one another." I would like to reply to certain points in Mr. James Semple's letter in last week's issue.

His view point in the matter seems to be that those of us who willing to "go it blind" let the taxes fall, where and however they like. But seeing that like the poor our taxes are ever with us, there is small chance of us forgetting them. The real reason is that our sense of values seems to be different. If taxes must be levied let the taxation be for a scheme which can be of general benefit such as the Rural High School undoubtedly is.

But in this connection it seems to me rather curious that as provincial tax payers we meekly allow ourselves to be taxed for the upkeep of a Provincial University which only about 2 per cent of our children will ever attain to; but let there be a local idea, brought forward which would help them to knit into coherence the loose threads of a rural school education then the air becomes positively sulphurous with our righteous indignation. (Mark you in saying this I am not decrying the merits of University training for those who wish it or can use it, but I think as individuals and as a province we are doing best for ourselves when we insist on a fuller education for all our children, rather than a University finish for a few of them.

I think it would be advisable also for those who look on the proposed High School to teach "frills and fads" only, to find out just what subjects really are taught, and what their bearing is on the future knowledge of the boys and girls before they give them wholesale condemnation.

If we deny our children "workable" education of the sort which enables them to grapple with the business problems on the farm or in other callings, we need not think to supply them later with something "just as good," in the form of a political club, or a well-developed class consciousness.

It is better for the farmer from a financial point of view, that he should be as good a business man as the "butcher, the baker, and candle-stick maker," or their western equivalents in his own home town, than that he should hold even the Government of his Province in the hollow of his hand! In the latter instance it is merely a case of 'As you were' for the farmer voter and the "sessional indemnity" for the chap with the "University education."

One of these days we are going to waken up to the fact that suspicion is the natural offspring of insufficient knowledge, and that the real way to get "our rights" is to be able to define them.

But in case all this may seem rather irrelevant to practical parties let us come back to brasses of values, which seems to be the main stumbling block in attaining an eye to eye view point. Leaving the question of Provincial taxation, what are the municipal privileges for which we pay taxes without making more than against? Our expenditure for road work, for example, is it always wise and evenly distributed? Take for instance the $1500 grader which was purchased two years ago, and which had Mr. Semple's official blessing as a councillor, and was extensively used by him during his term of office. Some of us know of it only by hearsay,—some who have had it call it a doubtful blessing,—ratepayers thereby deprived of a chance to "work out their taxes" are most emphatic that it is "special privilege" and even more expensive than the old method,—those who bought it claim that it is efficient and progressive, but all of us are agreed that its initial cost must increase our taxation, and if farmers are leaving the district in such numbers as Mr. Semple stated, it is reasonable to wonder if the question of the taxpayers' ability to pay should not have been discussed THEN as well as at this late date.

Even if the merits of the machinery will eventually justify its when we are reduced to paying only for essentials the question of education is paramount to the claims of road work, or indeed any other form of local or municipal expenditure. It would therefore seem that Mr. Semple's statement anent "people having been too easily talked into public expenditure in the past years," may be applied to the purchase of expensive road-work machinery as well as to new educational schemes!

Also taken by and large as a drawing card to induce other settlers to replace those who have gone, the presence of an up to date educational system in our midst would do more than half a dozen "Graders" working full blast on the rural roads!

Parents who are desirous of having their children given the best earning power possible are apt to be a lot more interested in schools than in "Scrapers." But I am sure of Mr. Semple will scan the recent figures given in the Chronicle, with unprejudiced eye he will be fair minded enough to own that given ordinary luck in regard to crop results and prices the costs involved need cause no new exodus such as he fears from any drastic increase in the taxes, while the benefits to be derived from it are patent to all.

Here and There

Comparative figures on the hydro power installed in the United States and Canada show that the latter is far in the lead in respect of horsepower installed per 1,000 of population. The United States has 10,455,000 h.p. of installed water power against Canada's water power installations of 3,227,414 h.p. The horsepower per 1,000 of population in the United States is 95, but in Canada it is 350.

A steady increase in the volume of wheat exports from Canada is noted in the monthly statement issued by the Bureau of Statistics. In April, 1924, 6,085,465 bushels in all were exported, as against 5,143,304 in April, 1923. Included in these figures are 32,805 bushels sent to the United States, 2,972,469 to the United Kingdom and 3,080,191 to other countries.

Approximately 80 per cent of Manitoba's wheat acreage has been seeded, despite the general lateness of work on the land occasioned by unfavorable spring weather. Practically every district correspondent reports a reduction in the wheat acreage, with corresponding indications that barley and flax acreage, in particular, will be increased.

Alberta provided the bulk of the wool sold by the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers' Association last year, 1,062,613 pounds, of the total of 2,843,365 pounds of the 1923 clip, coming from this province, according to a statement made by the general manager of the Association. Ontario growers took second place, with 636,076 pounds, followed by Manitoba - Saskatchewan, 459,583 pounds. Sundry shipments totalled 345,599 pounds.

The value of the building permits issued in 56 Canadian cities showed a large increase during April, as compared with March, 1924. Representative cities authorized buildings to the value of $13,452,359, as compared with $9,162,763 in the previous month. Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and New Brunswick registered increases in the value of building permits issued.

Except in sheep, Canadian livestock and livestock products show an increase in shipments to the United States all along the line in the January-February period of this year, compared with the corresponding months of last year. Cattle shipments in the period were 11,190, compared with 10,310; beef 923,400 lbs., compared with 446,800 lbs.; bacon 81,700 lbs., compared with 30,100 lbs.; pork, 165,300 lbs., compared with 90,800 lbs., and mutton 2,400 lbs., compared with 700 lbs.

The first annual pow-wow of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, which will be held July 17-18 at Yoho, will take place in a big sun-dance lodge decorated by Stoney Indians. The order aims to encourage travel through the Canadian Rockies, outdoor life, nature study, and forest conservation, and to honor early explorers. Many noted authors and artists have joined and E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has donated $1,000 towards expenses.

The Canadian Pacific S.S. "Empress of Canada" arrived at Vancouver, B.C., on May 24th, following a world cruise of five months and nearly 30,000 miles. The passengers witnessed a remarkable eruption at Hilo, in the Hawaiian Islands, on May 17th. After a public welcome at Vancouver, they left for the East, stopping en route at Banff Springs Hotel for a dinner-dance. E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific, who met the ship, said that she had done important missionary work in carrying the Canadian Ensign over the Seven Seas.

Arrangements are well under way for entertaining the members and friends of the Canadian Teachers' Federation during their trans-Canadian tour, which will take place August 4th-12th over the main lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in a train specially provided for their accommodation. Fort William, Port Arthur, Winnipeg, Regina, Moose Jaw, Calgary, Edmonton, Banff, Lake Louise, Vancouver and Victoria are all planning festivities. The Canadian Pacific is preparing to give the teachers a royal time at their beautiful Rocky Mountain resorts and the people of Victoria, where the subsequent convention will be held, will also help to make their stay in that city a memorable one.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

There is every indication that the dearth of the domestic servant in Canada will be greatly relieved in the course of the ensuing few months. Miss Esther Mackie, head of the Woman's branch, Colonization department, Canadian Pacific Railway, London, announces that "Specially conducted parties of domestic servants are being organized under the Empire Settlement Act in conjunction with the Canadian Government for the conveyance to Montreal and to Western Canada."

One of the most attractive features of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's pavilion at the British Empire Exhibition, Wembley, will be the illuminated exterior panels, and the Neon lighting effect, similar to that used at the Coliseum, London, which is wonderfully penetrating and effective under all atmospheric conditions. The interior of the building displays, through working models and magnificent oil and water color paintings, the many ramifications of the great transportation system as well as the natural resources of this country.

According to E. N. Todd, freight traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway the year 1924 will be a banner one as regards foreign capital coming into the country. "During the year 1923 a number of silk manufacturers from England and the United States decided to locate in Canada, and from present indications this particular movement is only in its infancy. At the present time our industrial department is in correspondence with a very large number of manufacturers who are seriously considering locating in Canada."
